

America's Finest

With flags flying high above our heads, we salute these chosen few who risk their lives to save the weak from the horrors they come to view.

Unselfishly they walk the line between hope and broken dreams.

Without question they will jump right in - no matter how extreme.

Don't ask them not to get involved unless you want them to say, "No."

You see, America's Finest, will always run where others fear to go.

They're heroes of the finest breed and they make our nation proud.

If sometimes they are scared inside, it's never said out loud.

Onward they go, day after day, never once do they look back.

They continue to fight for our fallen world from the evils that attack.

Take some time each and every day to say a little prayer.

Ask God to bless and keep them safe and remind them that He's there.

May they feel the love we have for them.

May they know when day is done,
that they're a part of "America's Finest"
and to us they're number one!
