

Behind the Scenes

I got to thinking the other day
As I gazed towards the sky.
What is my purpose here on earth
And why do loved ones have to die?
It seemed so unfair when the good ones die
And the evil ones get away.
How does God choose who he'll take home
Or who'll get to live another day?
So many questions flooded my head.
This was so much I didn't understand.
I know God is great and God is good,
But how is it evil can destroy our great land?
All of a sudden from out of nowhere
The wind began to blow.
There were no clouds in the sky
So where it came from... I don't know!
It made me stop and realize
There is so much that I cannot see.
God works behind the scenes in life
And he needs no help from me.
Death gives life on the other side.
It's freedom from all earthly pain.
It's eternal love from our Father in heaven.
That's why loved ones can't remain.
Evil may live, but there is no peace.
There's a void that nothing can fill.
They will search for ways to fill the void
Unaware of our Father's will.
Evil may spread it's wings on the earth,
But one day the believer will see -
Jesus coming back for us and evil...
To hell with thee!
So if you ever question God's motives on earth
And ask the question why,
Think of your loved one in the arms of Jesus
And the peace found after we die.
