

It's Time

There's a peace that fills the void deep inside of me.
It makes no sense how I can smile.
How can this really be?
I feel God's presence holding me
As He tells me all that's true.
He says that you're in heaven above
And one day I'll be with you.
Although your body may be gone
And I'll never hear your voice,
I choose to believe what the Bible says
And it's God gives us all a choice.
Do you see this life through the Father's eyes
Or do you use the world's view?
Take time to mourn over the one you love,
But don't let it get the best of you.
Remember to keep looking up
So you'll be reminded of God's love,
Your loved one's pain is finally gone
As he lives in heaven above.
One day your arms will wrap around
Each other once again.
It's time for you to let go the pain.
It's time this day begin.
