

Move Forward

Happy 2013 with love to my family and you!
I pray God will bless you in all that you do.
Where there are tears may a rainbow brighten your day
And when storm clouds approach you
May they just fade away.
I pray you'll have peace through all the trials you face
And you'll accept God's forgiveness
When he offers his grace.
No one knows the future or what blessings lie ahead,
But if you walk with our Savior
There'll be nothing to dread.
Sure! There'll be pain and you'll cry many tears,
But Jesus will be there as he's been all these years.
Now smile and be happy! The whole world waits for you.
Keep your eyes upon Jesus and he will see you through.
See the world as God made it.
There's still good all around.
Move forward and be faithful. You are on solid ground.
