

To those who suffer long with pain... To those whose life has seen no gain
To those who feel a void inside... To those whose loved has just died
To those whose cross is hard to bear... To those whose family isn't there
To those whose tears fall to the ground... To those now lost and can't be found
To those in war on land and sea... To those abused by society
To those in prison who have no rights... To those who use drugs every night
To those now old and have lost their way... To those still bullied every day
To those who steal, cheat and lie... To those who question and ask God why
To those whose heart is broke in two... To those now trapped by what they do
To those unemployed with bills to pay... To those who leave but want to stay
To those who try to do their best... To you and me and all the rest -

Come to Jesus - our Savior and our King
Our Helper, our Friend, our Mender of all things
Our Judge, our Jury, our Healer from all pain
Our Rock, our Strength, our Umbrella in the rain
Our Brother, our Teacher, our Map when we're lost
Our Comforter, our Keeper, our Hope at no cost
Our Redeemer, our Deliverer when our world's not at its best
Our Warrior, our Armor, our Peace when we rest
Our Messiah, our Protector, our Defender to the end
Our Conqueror, our Hero, our Rubber-band when we bend.

Jesus is our Everything. He died for you and me. He ascended into heaven where he wants us all to be.

Celebrate Jesus today and know you are loved!
