

Sing for Jesus

What's that noise I hear?

Is it Jolly Ole St. Nick and his flying reindeer?

Oh... the memories of childhood, it still makes me smile.

We weren't always good, but there'd be gifts on a pile.

Christmas Eve we'd go to church where the choir would sing.

People seemed to need Jesus so a big crowd it would bring.

Families were so happy and everyone got along.

Small children would sing for Jesus their favorite Christmas song -

Away in the Manger and Joy to the World was followed by Silent Night.

The congregation listened intently as the children's eyes twinkled bright.

All the suffering and the heartaches endured through the year were all set aside as we let Jesus draw near.

Our heads bowed in reverence to our Holy King.

This day was for Jesus and to him we would sing.

He was the center of Christmas. He gave us hope in our hearts.

All our cares seemed to leave us when the music would start.

Everyone sang praises as the walls echoed the sound.

God's love was present and it was all around.

A husband hugged his wife and whispered words of love.

Parents held on to their children with adoration from above.

No one was fighting and there were no sad faces.

Jesus was with us and so were his graces.

Though what I saw was through the eyes of a child, it still can be true.

Will you join me this Christmas and let the child out in you?

Jesus is still with us and it's there he will stay.

Let go all the unanswered prayers and find hope in today.

There is nothing you can't handle with Jesus by your side.

Now smile! It is Christmas. Let the child come outside.

Sing praise, play hard and enjoy your family.

Love, live and believe what you can't see.

Happy Birthday, Dear Jesus! It's your special day.

Thank you so much for your love and showing us the way.

Please bless all my family and friends near and far.

Let them know that I love them and how special they are.

Thank each one for the page they wrote in my life's story.

They helped show me your love and see your magnificent glory.

In honor of Christmas please show others you care.

Then accept the Gift of Jesus and the love it's meant to share.

Merry Christmas and the Happiest New Year Ever with Love
