

Tears from Heaven

When someone loses someone,
we tell them not to cry,
that life will still go on without a reason why.
If God were to come down from heaven
and see a lone tear fall,
I know he'd say it's okay
and it's the love that we recall.
God wants us to remember all the good times that we shared.
Tears don't erase the memories.
They remind us that they're there.
So don't stop yourselves from crying
over someone that you love, as long as you remember that they're safe now up above.
