

Thank You for the Sacrifice

Thank you for the sacrifice you made when I was young.
Thank you for the strength you gave, when my world was all undone.

Thank you, Dad, for loving me the best that you knew how.

Thank you for the memories that you and I share now.

I know the pain and suffering you went through in the past
And at times you'd like to go back and change some things at last,
But if you'd change the smallest thing that happened long ago,
It would change the time that we have now to what - we do not know.

I guess what all this means, Dad,
Is that I thank our God above
For making you the way you are
And for giving me your love.
I think that I turned out okay,
Though some may disagree!
If you look you'll find the best of you
Is planted inside me.

God loves you, Dad and I do, too!
