

The Path You Are Paving

You now stand in a world filled with sorrow. It's a place where evil resides.
Though you, too, still need God's protection, you bring hope to those who have cried.
Do not fear what lies before you. Be not afraid; there is nothing you lack.
God will answer each prayer you have spoken. When you can't see Him, He is covering your back.
The times you doubt, look up towards the heaven. Let it remind you of his never ending love.
Like a Father He will guide all your footsteps. Be at peace. He keeps watch from above.
You are paving the road up to heaven. You're a threat with God's love shining through.
You see love is like water on fire so don't let evil get the best part of you.
Evil may attack your body. It will try hard to destroy your mind.
Do not believe the things that it tells you. You're still loved by your God who is kind.
Now join forces with those all around you. Stand proud as you help pave the way.
The real battle belongs to our Father. God is with you and there He will stay.
For those who believe, there's a happy ending!
In God's time, He will conquer all sin.
Thank you so much for the path you are paving.
You're a big part of a war God does win!
