

The Things You Do

For every tear you've ever cried...
For every dream that ever died...
For every unkind word you spoke...
For every heart you ever broke...
For every deed you left undone...
For every challenge you never won...
God was there in good and bad.
He dried your tears when you were sad.
In darkest times He saw you through.
God always wants what's best for you.
He'll give you strength to do what's right.
Wherever you go, you're in His sight.
Remember all the things you do
Will always come right back to you.
Now stand up tall. Today's your day.
Make up your mind. God is the way.
