

To My Friend at Easter

He is risen! He is risen! The world can now proclaim.
The tomb is empty. The Savior lives.
Let us praise his holy name.

I want to take the time, my friend, to tell you from the heart,
I treasure all the times we share
In this world, we are a part.
I wonder often what God has planned and just why our paths have crossed.
Were we chasing the joy to be at peace
And now no more are lost?
I guess I'll just be patient as I treasure every day.
I will praise God for his blessings
And the friends he sends my way.
May you walk the path God shows you and when trouble comes your way,
May you know I'm in your corner
And it's here, my friend, I'll stay.
Just remember that God loves you and that he is always near.
Happy Easter and God bless you.
I am really glad you're here.
