

You'll Be Together

God loves all his children and would never destroy
The very life he planted to bring years full of joy.

When a child is taken from you and you cannot understand,
Put your trust in God the Father and let Him take you by the hand.
He will give you strength to hold on and He'll dry the tears you cry.
Then remind you that their soul lives though their body had to die.

One day you'll be together, but for now the fact remains.

Your child now lives in heaven where they'll never be in pain.
He can talk and laugh with Jesus. He can play out on his own.

Do not fear He's in God's care now and he'll never be alone.
God knows your heart is breaking and He knows the pain you bear,
But He also knows the outcome so your child he chose to spare.

Death is not a punishment. Your child has now gone home.
One day you'll be together and you'll see where angels roam.
