

Your Guide

The word cancer is scary, but I'm here by your side.
When your faith starts to waiver, let Me be your Guide.
Your body is a shell that the world may attack,
But your soul's here with Me so be free and sit back.
I give peace to the weary and strength for each day.
When your hope is diminished, let Me show you the way.
I will take you to heights that only I can give.
Do not be afraid. There is still time to live.
I was there at the beginning.
I'll be there through your life's span.
You won't leave your world
Until I say that you can!
Now don't give up on living.
You should enjoy every day.
Remember I am with you
And it is here I will stay.
