

His Holy Name

Death knocked the other day. I wonder if you knew.
Was it someone near or far away?
Did it break your heart in two?
It hurts to lose a loved one
Or someone that you know.
Did they believe in God above
And just not let it show?
We each have choices we must make
To reach the other side.
You may not believe your soul's at stake
Or believe that Jesus died.
Jesus waits. He waits for you.
He calls... Then waits some more.
When you don't answer, He doesn't give up.
He keeps knocking on the door.
We all are special in the eyes of God
And He loves us all the same.
When trouble knocks you to the ground,
Call out His Holy Name.
He'll be there is a heartbeat with His arms open wide.
Remember that Jesus loves you
And He is always by your side.
