

“I Am”

Why so low, my faithful friend? What troubles you today?
Have you forgotten I stand beside you so don't let Satan lead you astray.
I know sometimes when your body wears out that you want to take a rest, but you feel you can't because others will think you're not giving your very best.

“ I Am” all that others need and the same is true for you.

Instead of facing the problems alone, you must remember all I can do.
You, too, are my sons and daughters, but sometimes you think you're more.
You can only give what's yours to give so don't be afraid to close a door.
You know my word and hear my voice, but sometimes you pick and choose.
You will carry the weight of the world around and try walking in my shoes.

I made you just the way you are. You are perfect in my eyes.

I'm so proud you walk along with me. Won't you let me ease your cries?

Humans can only stretch so far before they, too, will break.

That's why I showed you how to give but also how to take.

Be still and be in peace today. You've waited for so long.

I love you My faithful servant. You are right where you belong.
