

Lives Now Gone

Five precious lives were taken today.
Without any warning they were taken away.
How could a world created in love
Destroy the very thing that it was made of?
Choices we make aren't always God's will,
but He is in control. Be at peace and be still.
Mourn those who have died
and don't stop the tears.
They're memories of times
you have shared through the years.
The lives now gone are safe above.
It's those who remain who need your prayers and love.
Now in silence we bow down and pray.
Thank you, God, for your strength as we travel life's way.
