

You Gave me

I miss you so much, Daddy. Did you really have to go?
I'm so glad you are in heaven, but I want you still to know.
I'm so proud to be your daughter.
You were my rock when I was weak.
There were times I was at my lowest
And it was you that I would seek.
Thank you, Dad, for all you've given me.
It's all the things that money can't buy.
Other kids will think I'm crazy,
But those who know you won't ask me why.
You gave your love through just your presence.
You gave me hope with your big smile.
You gave acceptance through your eyes so gentle.
You gave me strength to walk this mile.
One day I'll see you in God's heaven,
But 'til then please always know -
I love you , Daddy. I sure do miss you,
But I know now - it was your time to go.
