

Your Many Blessings

Why do you steal from the Lord, when He's given you so much?

It's wrong to withhold your love or a kind word or a touch.

God gave you arms to hold someone the times that they are down.
He gave you lips to give a smile, when your neighbor wears a frown.

He gave you words to tell someone the He is always near and through each heartache they endure, He'll dry their every tear.
He gave you strength to carry the load, when theirs was almost gone and a heart to show they are needed, when they feel they don't belong.

God gave you ears to listen, when their world is torn apart and filled you with compassion, when they have a broken heart.
You have no right to take away these these gifts God gave to you.
You never know the time you'll need someone to see you through.

So share your many blessings as you go about life's way and know in time they will return to you again one day.